CHARITIES BOUND TO SUFFER WHEN PINCHOT ACTS

Final Action Will Be Taken Tonight on All Appropriations to the Hospitals of State.

OFFICIALS SNARL

Harrisburg, Pa., July 11.—Governor Pinchot has decided to meet the situation that confronts him in the insufficiency of revenues by making heavy cuts in the appropriations to charities.

Final action was contemplated today on all the hospital and institutional appropriation bills based on recommendations that have been made through various quarters.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 12—Departments under executives were thrown into confusion today by action of the two fiscal officials, the Auditor General and State Treasurer, in their rulings on the Administration Code.

The latest interpretation came from State Treasurer Charles Snyder, who has held up the pay of the Governor and a number of his departments because of technical inhibitions in the code.

The State Treasurer drew a sharp rebuke from Secretary of Highways Paul Wright for insisting on certification of all names on his payroll, including some 10,000 laborers in the field who have been paid from lump sum funds.

ALABAMA SATISFIED TO RETAIN SYSTEM OF LEASING PEONS

Montgomery, Ala., July 13.—Alabama's right to abolish the convict leasing system in this state, the only remaining state in the Union which practice it, failed today. The House by a vote of 54 to 22 passed an administration resolution declaring that no further action on leasing would be taken at this session.

JANESVILLE SEMI-PRO TEAM HERE TOMORROW

The Janesville baseball team, made up of a number of semi-pro players from Harrisburg and other points in the eastern part of the state, well known to local fans, will meet the local American Legion team at the Clearfield Park tomorrow afternoon Game called at 3:30 o'clock.

A lot of the fans have been asking for Saturday baseball and here is the opportunity to satisfy their craving.

The Janesville team is a very fast bunch and a good game should be the result of tomorrow's clash. Turn out and give the boys your support. They deserve it

WALL CAVED IN AT MOOSE JOB

The work of putting in the concrete foundation for the new Moose Temple on Market street was retarded when half the foundation wall under the Bailey residence, now owned by Franson and Schiefer slid over into the excavation for the Moose cellar.

When the cellar for the Moose building was dug out, the steam shovel employed took the dirt out right close up to the wall of the residence. The contractor was satisfied there was no danger of the ground and wall giving way and no attempt was made to "shore' or protect it from just what occurred today.

The cave-in happened at the noon hour when the men employed in building the foundation were eating their noonday lunch and this fact alone saved them from injury or possible death.

AT CENTER CHURCH TONIGHT

A bible study and prayer service will be held at the Center church this evening. Hyde City folks should go. It is the intention to hold such meetings every Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Urban Leigey have returned from a motor trip to Pittsburgh and Cleveland, Ohio.

"DOLLAR WHEAT" PUTS FARMER IN BAD POSITION.

Chicago, July 12.—"Dollar wheat means ruin for thousands of farmers all over the United States."

In these words O. E. Bradfute, president of the American Farm Federation Bureau today epitomized the situation facing the great army of approximately three million wheat farmers in the grain belts following a drop of ten cents a bushel on wheat in the past two weeks.

"Continuance of wheat at the dollar a bushel mark means nothing short of bankruptcy for the thousands of farmers who are dependent on the price they get for their wheat for a livelihood," said Mr. Bradfute. "Unless there is an immediate upward turn of the market for which at present I can see no hope, there will be nothing for those farmers to do except throw up their hands and quit or put themselves heavily in debt in order to survive until better prices prevail.

"Dollar wheat in Chicago means that the farmer is unable to purchase the necessaries for himself and his family.

"The farmer's purchasing power is based on the price his wheat brings. When it is low, he has to deliver more wheat to secure a dollar's worth of merchandise. The more wheat he has to deliver for each dollar's worth, the quicker his supply is exhausted and the less he gets for his money."

Mr. Bradfute declared that the loss to the farmer in revenue from wheat based on a crop of 80,000,000 bushels has been approximately $80,000,000 during the past two weeks when wheat dropped from $1.10 a bushel to its present level of $1.

The immediate effect of this, he said, will be to benefit the consumer slightly for the time being by causing cheaper flour and its products but the ultimate effect will be to cause the consumer to pay higher prices when thousands of farmers are forced to throw up their hands and quit producing on account of inability to get enough for their product to sustain themselves.

"Dollar wheat means simply that the farmer will be unable to meet his obligations or do much of anything else. The ultimate effect of this on everybody is not hard to foresee.

"Every section of the United States will be affected either directly or indirectly. The only salvation is that wheat will shortly take an upward turn. Frankly, I am unable at present to see much hope for this. The farmer has over-produced."

40 Police, 4 Bandits In Fierce Battle In Alley At Chicago; Three Shot

Chicago, July 1.—Two policemen and one alleged gun man was wounded and the occupants of the fashionable Surf Hotel and Lakeshore Drive homes were thrown into a panic when forty policemen and four bandits fought a gun battle here today.

The fight was in a blind alley at the rear of the hotel. Hundreds of shots were exchanged. Three men were captured by police. One gave the name of Charles Curran and claimed to be the son of the State Representative.

The battle resulted when police pursued two groups of robbers, who staged a dozen midnight hold-ups of autoists on the Drive. The wounded Policeman, Lieutenant Christopher Hughes and chauffeur Thomas Hayes were shot when the gunmen turned at bay in the alley.

Children's Quarrel Cause Of Shooting; One Man May Die

Girardville, Pa., July 12.—Rocco Scherone this morning fired three shots at Constance Triano, aged 42, who is in the Ashland hospital suffering from bullet wounds in the arm thigh and abdomen. He may die.

Scherone fled after the shooting and has not been captured. Families of both men reside in the same house and a children's quarrel precipitated the shooting.

Mrs. W. C. Pollard, of Decatur, Ill and son Wilson Briggs are here visiting Mrs. Pollard's mother, Mrs. A. W. Cowder, of 206 Nichols street.

REPORT WESTPHALIA TAKEN BY FRENCH DESPITE BRITAIN

Berlin, July 13.—News was received here today that French troops had advanced to Westphalia and occupied Darmen.

This city, an important industrial center of nearly 200,000 inhabitants is one of the most important in the Rhineland and its seizure is a blow to Germany. It had been hoped that France would desist from further advances in view of the British statement.

French troops were also reported to be marching toward Elberfeld. It was announced that Elberfeld had been occupied.

FOUR HOMES ARE DYNAMITED OVER MINE DISTURBANCE

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 13.—Front porches were blown to atoms, rooms and furniture wrecked and persons thrown from their beds when four homes were dynamited here within a period of fifteen minutes early today. None were injured.

One home was that of Alex Campbell, leader of the insurgents of District No. 1 of the United Mine Workers of America, and Chairman of the Grievance Committee of the Pennsylvania Coal Company at Millside Coal & Iron Company.

It is believed that Campbell, at a meeting last night presented a proposition calling off the strike at the No. 8 and No. 9 collieries, which has been in progress a week. A number of men, it is thought, did not like the proposition and perpetrated the dynamiting.

FOUNDER OF DUBOIS COURIER PAYS VISIT TO OLD HOME CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Bion H. Butler, of Southern Pines, N. C., both former residents of DuBois, are making an automobile trip through this section of the country visiting relatives and greeting old time friends. Their youngest son Cyril is along. Mr. and Mrs. Butler went to the south some twenty-five years ago where Mr. Butler is an extensive landowner and owner and grower of small fruit in the famous white sand belt, noted for its peaches and strawberries. They are enthusiastic boosters of the advantages of the Tar Heel state. Mr. Butler was the founder, editor and publisher of the DuBois Courier, officiating at the printing of the first edition on an old fashioned hand press. That was way back in 1870 and was the first paper printed in DuBois. After leaving DuBois Mr. Butler went to Brockwayville and founded the Record, which he made into one of the best country weeklies in the state. Later he gained renown as a special writer for the Pittsburgh Times. The Butlers expect to resume their tour today.

The thing that impressed the tourists most was the amount of paved roads to be found in this section of the country now, in contrast to the mud and dust trails that were the absolute rule twenty years ago.

MARRIED AT CUMBERLAND

Daniel Cyphers of Curwensville, and Miss Martha Killinger of Shawville, went to Cumberland on the seventh and were united in marriage by Rev. Enders of Grace Lutheran church. The groom is a son of Wm. Cyphers of Curwensville and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Killinger of Shawville. May they live long, happy and useful lives.

Firpo Wins: Knocks Out Willard

Firpo is the new star of Pistiana Willard fades out of the picture. The former, bearing the full name of Luis Angel Firpo, a giant ex-drug clerk of Argentine, advertised as the "bull of the Pampas," last night won a right to contend with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship of the world by knocking out Jesse Willard in the eighth round. A terrific right to the jaw rocked the former champ to his knees in his own corner. On one knee Willard took the count of ten. At the count of eight his seconds shouted savagely at him to get up but Jesse weakly replied, "No, no."

Jesse was a game fighter. Although the giant South American out-boxed the ex-cowboy from the beginning, Willard never faltered, taking punishment with a smile and coming out of bad situations boldly. Firpo won five rounds; Jesse only one. In the fourth round it looked as though Willard was gone. A succession of hard hammer blows had him groggy.

One hundred thousand saw the fight in the giant pine bowl near Jersey City. The three additional fights were short but the crowd was pleased. In the first preliminary Herman completely bewildered Kramer by a windfall of rights and lefts. Kramer stood up under a terrible battering for five rounds then the worm turned. Kramer rallied in the fifth and sent Herman down for count of six and later sent him to the hemlock again. The sixth round was tame, both men tired out. It was a real fight.

The second preliminary lasted four rounds. Both Nashert and West were fighting poorly and fouling. Referee stopped the bout at end of fourth West losing.

In the semi-final Johnson knocked out McAuliffe in 1 minute and 4 seconds of the first round of their heavyweight bout.

One of McAuliffe's handlers sprinkled water on his back, as he crouched near his corner, and when the Jeanette pugilist, acting as referee, signified Johnson as winner, fight fans thought he had disqualified the Detroit boxer. It was announced from the ring, however, that McAuliffe had been counted out. Johnson weighed 198 and McAuliffe 196.

In a few seconds he had McAuliffe flat on his back, and the thud of his head could be heard almost on the rim of the giant theatre. In a few minutes more the flying fighter from Des Moines had McAufflie almost through the ropes with a right to the jaw. McAuliffe dropped to his knee, clinging to the ropes when he was counted out. At this moment a shower of water fell on McAuliffe from his corner and a chorus of cries rose from Johnson's handlers, while the crowd stood aghast at this dramatic instance.

Following is the dope on the big fight, round by round. Willard weighed in at 242 and Firpo at 214

Round One.

Firpo led with a left and missed. They clinched. Stepping back, Willard missed a left jab and a right uppercut and took a right counter to the body. Firpo charged into Willard, landing two, not important. Firpo again rushed and jabbed Willard in the side and the breast with glancing blows. Willard was fighting entirely on the defensive and when he hit fell short in his punches. Willard dodged two rights. Firpo rushed Willard to the ropes and hit him with a right to the face and right to the body. Firpo opened Willard's eye with a left then Willard countered short to the body. Willard missed a left jab as round one ended.

Round Two.

They both came slowly out of their corners. Willard missed a left jab. Willard tore into Firpo but the South American stepped back and away. Firpo backed Willard to the ropes and missed a hard one to the jaw. He followed with a right to the body and a right skidded off Willard's cheek bone. Rushing Willard, Firpo got over two right hooks to the head and Willard clinched. Willard was short with a left jab and Firpo ducked another left at his head. Willard hooked a right to Firpo's face and Firpo countered with two hard rights to the body. Firpo was directing his attack entirely at Willard's body where little rolls of fat hung over his trunks. Firpo hooked two rights to the head and Willard missed a wild right uppercut. Firpo was clinched with Willard when the round ended.

Round Three.

Firpo rushed from his corner and swung a right to Willard's shoulder. Willard charged back and rushed Firpo to the ropes. Willard apparently had been told from his corner to fight but he was standing too far away and his punches were falling short. He was, however, trying to follow out instructions. Firpo put over a right hook to the head and Willard tried a right uppercut at close quarters but missed. Willard hooked a right to jaw and Firpo clinched. Firpo stepped back from one of Willard's rushes and ran into the referee, nearly knocking him down. Willard getting more confident and was leading into Firpo. Both missed swings. Considerable sparring. Willard again landed but not effectively. Both were squared off ready for attack as the round ended.

Round Four.

Both fighters were breathing a little heavily when they came out. Willard missed a left jab. Firpo landed on the elbow. Firpo took a right and they clinched. Firpo rushed Willard to the ropes with a savage rushing attack. Clinched. Firpo missed a right and Willard countered with a hard right uppercut. Firpo apparently had forgotten all his lessons in orthodox fighting and was leading continually with his right hand. Willard was taking every advantage and was wearing a savage scowl. Firpo landed a hard right to the jaw that rocked Jesse to his heels. He followed it with five other short rights to Willard's head but when the crowd raised Willard smiled. Again Firpo attacked him with a barrage of rights and Jesse got groggy. He was game, however, and continued to smile. He was a tired Jesse when the round ended.

Round Five.

Willard came cautiously out of his corner and missed a left. Firpo missed also with a left and they clinched. Willard's corner was shouting "Right hand, Jeff, right hand." As if to respond he smashed Firpo on the face with a hard right. He fought Firpo to the ropes but Louis came back and rushed Jesse to the other side of the ring. Firpo seemed a litte tired and he was rocked to his heels with a hard right under his eye. Firpo shook his head groggily and fell into a clinch. The blow seemed to have hurt him badly. Willard carved wildly and missed several rights and lefts. Firpo came to and landed a right hand to the head as Willard came in. The crowd was shouting like a football crowd, "Come on Jess, come on Jess," as the gong sounded. Firpo went back to his corner plainly tired.

Sixth Round.

With the crowd still yelling for Willard, Firpo came out and sparred into a clinch. He had apparently been warned by his seconds to be more cautious. Firpo missed a left and landed a right to Willard's shoulder. Both fighters were over-cautious and they milled and sparred around the ring, trying to get a chance. Firpo fired several rapid punches in a clinch but Willard blocked him with a ponderous left arm. Firpo hit Willard with a right on the body which hurt. Willard clinched but again led with a right hand but missed. The fight was flowing up. Both seemed to be tiring. Willard missed a right to the body and Firpo missed a right counter to the jaw. Firpo was leading again with his right hand and again his seconds shouted caution to him. A slow round.

Seventh Round.

Firpo came out of his corner and socked Jesse on the jaw with a right. Willard came back with a right to the body and Firpo stepped away. Firpo dashed into a left jab and Willard pounded him on the neck with a right uppercut punch. Willard caught him with a right to the body as he came in and it hurt Firpo. Another right to the body brought Firpo into a clinch. Willard hooked Firpo to the ropes and hit him with a hard right that snapped Firpo's head back on his shoulders. Firpo had assumed the defensive and Willard jabbed him in the face time after time. Willard seemed to be getting better right along but he missed most of his punches. Willard missed a left swing but Firpo countered with a terrific right that landed on Jess' cheek. Firpo again went in with a savage attack that had Willard covering up for shelter when the gong sounded.

Eighth Round.

Willard came slowly from his corner. Firpo walked clear across the ring to miss a left jab. Both sparring around the ring. Firpo hit Willard on the body and they clinched. Firpo walked into another clinch for no apparent reason and Willard missed a right uppercut. Firpo knocked Willard to the floor for a count of ten, the bell rang. Firpo wins—KNOCKOUT. It was a terrific right to the jaw that brought the giant to his knees and made him powerless to arise.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY SET AS DATES FOR RENEWAL OF PLEDGES TO SUPPORT OF CLEARFIELD COMMUNITY SERVICE

Playgrounds Ought to Be Continued and There Is Much Other Work to Be Done In Clearfield.

BIG ATTENDANCE NOTED

With a splendid year's record of achievement in equipment and management of the city's playgrounds, founding and development of the Girl Scouts, organization of five athletic leagues, and innumerable other community activities in co-operation with schools, churches and neighborhoods, Clearfield Community Service on July 16th and 17th will ask its thousand subscribers for renewed subscriptions in order that this work may continue to be one of the greatest assets of the city, according to Mr. George I. Thurston, who has just been elected to presidency of this community agency for 1923-24 and who will be chairman of the subscription renewal campaign.

This evening there will be a luncheon meeting at 6 o'clock in the Hotel Jordan to lay final plans for the campaign. It will be very brief as it is hoped that but the two mornings, Monday and Tuesday from 9 to 12, will be required to accomplish a 100 per cent renewal. Workers will meet each morning and report progress at "dutch treat" luncheons each noon.

An attendance of over 28,000 people has been the record hung up service by the many different activities of this agency. That means either that everyone in the city was served at least three times, or that all those who did take part were served many, many times.

"Boiling the story down to its essence, it means that all of the activities of Community Service have spelled prevention; prevention of accident sickness, juvenile delinquency, crime and all their attendant evils which make necessary those expensive community tragedies, the hospitals, insane asylums, jails and prisons," said Mr. Thurston this morning.

"Every dollar you spend for Community Service now will save many dollars which you would have to spend that way later," he cont'

"Community Service has meant conservation and growth of our greatest community asset—citizenship. In view of the wonderful record which Community Service has made during the last year, the finance committee feels sure of the undivided support and backing of Clearfield in the coming campaign and in the working out of the program for the new year—which it is hoped to make even more valuable and of a still greater magnitude."

Big Community Party At Reedsville Tonight To Be A Popular Event

Reedsville is having its first outdoor community party this evening on the playground. These parties are by now such an established thing in the life of the neighborhood that they do not need much advertisement Tonight will be a sort of official opening of the playground which has been progressing in good form for three weeks. It is hoped that the Italian Band which contributed so much to several similar occasions last summer will be there and the usual program will be carried out that has proved so successful before.

"BURG" HUMILIATES LOCAL BALL TEAM BY THIRD TIME DEFEAT

Something has got to be done, and that pretty darn soon, if Clearfield baseball fans are to retain or regain their peace of mind. Several weeks ago that Philipsburg bunch came over to the best town in the entire West Branch valley and getting our baseball warriors over onto the Park diamond proceeded to beat them handily by a 2 to 1 score. Then to add further insult to injury the Centre county ball tossers slipped back again and before an audience of 18,000 on the afternoon of the Fourth handed us another lacing by the same 4 to 2 score.

Not satisfied with twice trimming us on our own "dunghill," barnyardically speaking, Philipsburg inveigled our would-be champs over to their home lot yesterday afternoon and what they did to us was plenty, being equalled only by the walloping "Fea po" handed our ancient friend Jess Willard, the Pottawattomie pugilistic pigmy. It is too much.

But this is how it was. Our pets were sent to bat first and started out like a real ball team. McCloskey, first up, got his base on balls. Townsend singled and after Robinson and Heb were out, Smith hit a double and three runs were sent across. Two more were added in the second Rowles' single and a triple by Townsend. Philipsburg then inserted a stopper in our run chute and while Shaulis laced out a triple in the third that was as near as we eve. came to scoring after the second.

Philipsburg garnered two runs in the second on three singles in a row. Got two more in fourth on an error, base on balls and Waite's double

IMPROVED LOTS ARE A BOON TO MAN WHO WANTS TO OWN HOME

Neat Little City In Itself Is Verdict of All Who See Work Going Forward on Fourth Street.

LOTS GO RAPIDLY

A visit to the Clearfield Home Builders' site, the most substantial addition ever made to rapidly growing Clearfield, will well repay any person for the effort expended. The site, bounded by Leavy avenue on the north, Elm Avenue on the south, South Foart street on the east and South Third street on the west contains forty-one fine lots which are being sold under a highly satisfactory plan by the holding corporation, an organization of local business men, who, without hope or thought of gain organized this association for the purpose of assisting Clearfield people to get their own homes.

In order to make this a desirable place in which to live it was decided to improve the plot by building streets, curbs, gutters and sidewalks and having an splendid lighting system installed. All these modern improvements and necessities are being made or placed and the Home Builders site looks like a neat little city block of its own. The streets are graded and improved, concrete sidewalks built throughout while the concrete curbs and gutters are being built as help for the sanitary sewers are being advertised for.

Pennsylvania Avenue divides the plot. This avenue runs diagonally from outh Third to South Fourth street and is lined with Norway Maple shade trees while standard boulevard lighting posts are being placed and when these improvements are all made Pennsylvania avenue, though much shorter, will be handsomer than any other street in town. The sanitary sewers will be placed in the alleys and after construction ends at the new addition the home owner will never have his street or front yard dug up for sewer and other repairs.

The Home Builders Company is developing this plot for Clearfield and not as a money making proposition, the articles of incorporation providing that no stockholder may get more of a return than legal interest on his money, and in addition to providing the homesite at a very reasonable figure, when it is taken into consideration that every necessary improvement is made and paid for in the price of the lot, The Home Builders Company also assists the lot purchaser in getting the wherewithal with which to build his home.

This site or addition will, in a short time prove to be one of the most desirable residence locations in or about the town and a number of citizens have already taken advantage of the opportunity by purchasing lots and are having modern homes erected.

But visit the Home Builders Company site and see for yourself what a transformation has been worked and what a really desirable place it is.

This table of payments shows partially how the amounts increase in graduated units of four each, and the total will increase to equal the price of the particular model of machine selected.

This White Progressive Club is one of the most successful that we have ever put on. Folks have come from miles around and deposited their 25c to start the easiest payment plan that was ever devised for such a useful, necessary household utility as the White Rotary Head Sewing Machine.

A Wonderful Opportunity For June Brides Of This Year And Of Years Past

You are probably furnishing that little home and it will not be complete until you have this White Sewing Machine, which will save you more money than any other thing that you might invest in any time. You may make all your own dresses and underthings, you may do a lot of sewing for your husband, and there's no end to the economies you may work if you will join this White Progressive Club.

The Number of Machines Reserved Is Nearly Taken Up By Subscribers

There was only a limited number of machines to be put out on this plan and the Membership Enrollment has taken up a goodly share of these.

Be sure to get in as early as you can in the morning so that, if you are planning on buying a sewing machine, you may take advantage of this really wonderful machine.

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. B. C.

People who remember the famous "Ormsby quads," a decided sensation in 1901 and 1902, will be interested to learn that they have grown to manhood and womanhood—so far as known the only set of quadruplets in history to reach maturity. The equally famous mother also survives and resides in a tiny bungalow on a two-acre farm on the outskirts of Chicago. Care of a cow, some chickens and several goats occupies the time she formerly devoted to the seven children who survived of the 14 born to her in seven years.

When she was 26 years old she was married to John Ormsby in 1894. A year later a boy was born. Then came twins. Following them a baby daughter and the next year the Ormsbys were blessed with another pair of twins.

Father Ormsby, a plumber by trade and a believer in perpetual motion by avocation, began to display signs of worry. Wrinkles of care appeared when the second set of twins arrived and these deepened to furrows when triplets were announced in 1899. The latest babies were named George Dewey, Carter Harrison and Helen Gould. Father Ormsby began to lose weight. He grew morose and could not hold a job, but applied himself more assiduously than ever to the gears and pinions of his perpetual motion machine.

The arrival of a baby boy in 1900 failed to cheer him. A year later, in a serious conference with his wife, he told her things could not go on at this rate. Then he walked out of the house and never reappeared. Four months later the famous "quads" were born.

From poverty and distress, the deserted mother was at once raised to a pinnacle of wealth and comfort beyond her dream. The public responded nobly. Money poured in from every direction. Museum magnates frantically bid for the services of herself and the "quads." There were trained nurses, limosines and everything that went with wealth.

Four years later the sensation died out, the money was gone, the mansion gave way to four rooms, which later gave way to a one-room hovel near the railroad tracks as the babies were taken to the juvenile home. While wealth was pouring in on Mrs Ormsby her runaway husband wrote asking her to take him back but she spurned his plea. He died in Seattle some time ago.

One hundred and seventy-eight German submarines were "lost in action" during the war, according to an official report just received by the Navy Department. The loss in personnel is given at 5,961, of whom 515 were officers. The figures are believed by officials here to be the first authentic information on this subject to be obtained. Four years were consumed, the author of the report asserts, in checking official records and interviewing members of the German admiralty who had charge of the under-sea craft.

Depth charges accounted for 3 submarines, fixed mines of 36, fights with enemy submarines 20; engine and other trouble 14; torpedo boats, destroyers and subschasers 13; accidental ramming eight, armed fishing craft six; airplane (bombing) six and submarine nets six. Twenty-one submarines were demolished or otherwise disposed of to prevent their capture by the enemy. There were sunk by regular patrol vessels of the enemy three by armed vessels of the enemy three by armed auxiliaries, two by cruisers and two by artillery fire from the shore. One was sunk by a liner at the entrance to the British main base of Scapa Flow, the famous U-29 under Capt. Weddigen.

Chile has fewer fires than any other South American county. The reason for this state of affairs is due, largely to a unique law that country has on her statute books, and enforces to the letter.

This is the law regarding fires. For in Chile, the danger from a fire does not end with getting burned yourself or having all of your household goods and treasures destroyed.

As in France, a man is guilty of a crime until he is proved innocent, so in Chile a man is considered guilty of having set his house on fire until he proves that he had nothing whatever to do with it.

For when a fire occurs, the owner or the occupant of the burned building is promptly arrested and brought before a court of law. There, legally speaking, "the burden of proof is on him,' until he convinces the court that he is guiltless.

Needless to say, there are very few "fire sales" in Chile and such a thing as a joke about a fire is never heard.

Miss Josephine Swan, a lineal descendant of the first white child born in America, died recently in Erie. She was a granddaughter of the American Revolution and was the last of her family, renowned for their hospitality to travelers along the newly beaten paths of the lake shore in the early years of the last century. The homestead was erected 109 years ago, shortly after Perry's victory on Lake Erie assured the people from eastern Pennsylvania that the lake country would be safe from hostile invasion and Indian depredations.

Had His Ambitions.

Discussing music the other day my little nephew was asked if he wouldn't like to take violin lessons. He answered, "No, I should say not I want to belong to a real orchestra, one that walks down the street."—Exchange.

Time Enough.

In Nevada a woman's club with charitable leanings staged a vaudeville show at the "University of Time," as the state penal institution is facetiously called. One of the women had to return to town early, and not wishing to disturb the other entertainers she appealed to the officer in whose charge they had been placed. The latter courteously offered to send her home in his car with a "trusty" as chauffeur. After starting on her homeward journey with the convict she duly regretted her rashness and tried to extricate herself. "Are you sure you have enough to take me all the way to the city?" she nervously began. "Well, madam" the convict answered. "I have five gallons of gas and fourteen years."

The Progress is anxious to be to this community as a medium of information concerning matters which are for the public good. In this classification we include notices of regular Sabbath church services, notes concerning Community Service activities, Y. M. C. A. activities, community campaigns of various kinds and communications on topics of interest to the whole community.

While offering this service and gladly performingit we must request those who profit by it that unless it is given us in accordance with our rules we cannot accept it. All such material offered can just as well be handed in the day before publication, thus enabling us to put it into type during the hours when we are not rushed.

Primarily a newspaper is a business proposition; in our particular case having sixteen regular employees who look for and deserve a pay envelope every Saturday evening, and with a material and overhead cost running into many thousands of dollars yearly.

The time devoted to performing this free service to the community could be and is in the case of practically every other printing establishment in the city, turned to the production of job printing at a profit.

When such material is not handed to us so that we can work it in between times we are handicapped.

We have no other alternative therefore, but to lay aside any such communication received at a late hour on the morning of publication but can accept them gladly if not later than nine o'clock provided this is the exception rather than the rule.

Help us out in this respect so that we may continue to serve you.

Alabama, the home of Senator Oscar Underwood, erstwhile candidate for president of the United States, today decided through the Legislature that it could not get along to do business without the privilege of buying and selling human labor in bulk even though the consent of such labor was not had.

That state, over which Senator Underwood has always held sway as a political boss, was recently the scene of the brutal whipping of a western boy by a prison boss which resulted in the death of the boy. The whipper is now under sentence of twenty years. May the lash fall heavily on his cowardly hide.

Today that state by legislative action upholds the principle of convict labor and despite the fact that Senator Underwood is to be put forward as "a great and typical American" as a presidential candidate, he raises not a finger against this inhuman practice.

Will Democracy stand for such a candidate?

Every man who starts out to criticize ought to stop short and consider his right to criticize before he utters a word. Ordinarily Clearfield is free from knockers and critics. Fortunately nearly everybody tends to his or her own business. Let us keep it so. Just for the purpose of helping keep it so, let us review a few of the instances coming to our notice.

First, a fellow harrangued long and loudly about Philipsburg defeating our ball team three times in succession. He knew just why it was and is ready to place the blame. He tells just what he would do about it. That ball team did not cost him a cent. He might have attended the game and paid an admission but that admission price entitled him to see the game not a victory. He had no license to knock.

Second, a fellow lampooned the "Y." He probably has not had a membership since he won one by working as a kid but the "Y" stands out as a shining light and he loves to throw stones at a shining mark. If he did subscribe to the "Y" it was his own act. There was no compulsion about it. If he has a real kick let him tell it to the Board of Directors, The public will thereby be relieved of a nuisance.

Third, a fellow jumped on the idea of Community Service. Said he got along all right when he was a kid without any such high falutin' things. Yes, we grant he did, but look at him now. Who wants to be like him? He has a mighty good opinion of himself, one that is not shared by his fellows. Nine chances out of ten he "had business out of town" during the solicitation. Boy, but there is a lot of business done out of town these days. No compulsion about Community Service either. Those who want to do something for others, if they are financially able will subscribe. Others may want to do the same thing but will be unable to do so. Those who do not want to help will be excused, we believe. No criticism can be attached for their failure to help. That is their own business but it is also their business to let those who do desire to spend their money alone.

There are many other fellows. They are even knocking the Home Builders Company, a non-profit concern wherein many are loaning their money and giving of their time to lighten somebody else's burden.

This form of unjustifiable criticism has not reached a critical stage, and will not, for Clearfield's citizenry is not built that way. No harm though in showing a few fellows a picture of themselves.

Let us pra-ize.

Progress Editorial For Women

WOMEN'S EDITORIAL ? , PLANTING IDEAS THAT GROW

By Florence Davies

Did you ever watch a pile driver driving a great stake into the ground?

Down comes the great hammer and pounds the stake in a few inches; down again it falls, over and over again and the huge log sinks a little lower at each blow.

With all the powerfull modern machinery that we have did you ever wonder why they did't devise some machine which would hit that stake hard enough to send it in with a single blow?

Doubtless it could be done. But what do you suppose would happen to the stake and the earth around it? A blow hard enough to drive a 12 inch log into the earth to the required depth, would shatter the log and make a great shell hole where it was supposed to be. The whole thing would end in a glorious noise, a glorious smash which would spell ruin.

That isn't the way we drive big stakes into the ground. Neither is is that the way we drive ideas into children's heads, but some parents seem to think that it is. They deliver a rule or a command with a smashing blow which is ment to settle the matter for all time. But all they succeed in doing is to come down like a pile driver which was stout enough to crash the idea and the mental soil around it.

Delivered with this kind of a blow an idea enteres a childes head and arouses only antagonism.

Banging away at things, whether they are wooden piles or ideas is dangerous business.

That's what a doctor means when he says that he uses suggestion to cure his patients. Suggestion is nothing more than planting ideas in to people's heads and then driving them down deep by a series of gentle little taps.

People who succeed in business use that method without knowing what they do.

Suppose you crash into the manager's office and tell him with all the force you have, what ought to be done Right away he wonders who is running the business and he sets up a kind of resistance.

Something about the way you planted that idea made it go smash instead of falling gently into place and taking root.

But suppose again that you drop into the office some day and plant your little thought seed with a kindly question or a modestly-made suggestion. You think it's lost but before you know it you mayfind that the boss is doing things your way and merrily thinks it is his own way.

Try this kind of idea pile driving with your children.

Plant the seed of suggestion and keep tapping away at it with another suggestion the next day and the next and the next. Before you know it that idea will have taken root and will be growing beautifully, while trying to smash it in all at once may only end in failure.

Sense of Humor.

A sense of humor is a very fine thing. It lifts one over life's rough places as it were, with a leap and a bound, and lands one in safety on the farther bank of the swollen and threatening stream. You keep young if you possess it; the twinkle in your eye is a sign that old age is far from you yet, whatever your years may be. All the same, a sense of humor is a gift which must be displayed with discretion. The trouble is that, with most of us, it stops working when we need it most—that is when things go wrong with our own affairs. The man who can smile when this happens is a hero.—Philadelphia Re

Roman Remains in Britain.

Excavating for the foundation of a new factory to be erected at Keynsham, near Bristol England workmen recently unearthed Roman remains. The Daily Chronicle of London reports the discovery of coffins containing skeletons, a Roman needle about six inches long, a spoon and a brooch. The brooch is believed to have put the finishing touch upon the toga of a Roman gallant.

Scientific Achievement.

Apparatus with which it is possible to measure the minute length of time necessary to arouse the sense of vision in the human eye has been developed by English scientists.

Attractive Invitation.

Junior gave a party to his little friends, and insisted on writing his own invitations. He was a precocious youngster, especially in his diction; after the formal invitation had been written he added: "There will be indoor and outdoor amusements, 'eats' and other activities."

Ancient Manuscripts.

The oldest manuscript written on cotton paper in England is in the British museum and bears the date of 1049. The most ancient manuscript on the same material in the Library of Paris is dated 1050. In 1085 A. D. the Christian successors of the Spanish Saracens made paper of rags instead of raw cotton, which is recognized by its yellowness and brittleness.

In Washington Tomb.

The tomb contains, besides George Washington and his wife, Maj. Lawrence Lewis, Mary Lee Washington Herbert (a child of Rev. W. P. C. Johnson), Mrs. Jane Washington, Judge Bushrod Washington, Ann Washington (his wife) and John Augustine Washington.

Brazil Ships Bulk of Coffee.

Three-fourths of the world's coffee is grown in Brazil. Europe and North America use nearly four-fifths of all the coffee produced. The world consumption now amounts to something like 3,000,000,000 pounds a year. Holland is the greatest coffee-drinking nation on the globe. It uses more than fifteen pounds per capita annually, while the people of the United States use about thirteen pounds.

Good Definition.

Cheats easily believe others as bad as themselves; there is no deceiving them, nor do they long deceive.—La Bruyere.

Many Japanese in Hawaii.

Japanese are more than 42 per cent of the population of the Hawaiian Islands.

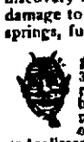
Liquid Fire

A liquid fire to the bedbugs, moths and roaches is what the new chemical discovery really is, although there is no damage to be done by using it to your springs, furniture or clothing.



This new chemical is known as Peaky Devils Quietus, P D Q. Costs 35c but these few cents will have the power of ridding your house of bedbugs, moths and roaches if you purchase P D Q. It is used and recommended by the leading hospitals and railroad companies as the safest and quickest way of ridding the pesky bedbugs, etc. P D Q can also be purchased in sealed bottles, double strength, liquid form.

Stop that Eczema!

AMAZING results have been produced by S. S. S. in cases of eczema, pimples, blackheads and other skin eruptions. If you have been troubled with eczema, and you have used skin applications without number, make a test yourself, on yourself with a bottle of S. S. S., one of the most powerful blood cleansers known. S. S. S. makes the blood rich and pure, and when your blood is freed of impurities your stubborn eczema, rash, tetter, skin eruptions, pimples, blackheads, blotches and sores are bound to disappear. There are no unproven theories about S. S. S.; the scientific results of each of its purely vegetable medicinal ingredients are admitted by authorities.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

Right Off the Ice

The great thing about bottled Coca-Cola is that it is so much for so little. It is prepared with the finished art that comes from a lifetime of practice to delight your taste and quench your thirst. Only choicest products from nature are used, and these make it wholesome. Our sanitary plant, with every bottle sterilized, keeps it absolutely pure.

5¢

Buy it by the bottle from an ice box when you're thirsty. Order by the case from your grocer and keep a few bottles on ice at home.

The patented bottle for Coca-Cola helps protect you from all imitations and substitutes.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mrs. A. C. Stiver died very suddenly late yesterday afternoon of acute indigestion. She was in perfect health up until within an hour before overtaken by death. Obituary later.

The members of the W. C. T. U will hold a meeting on Friday evening, July 13th. There will be study lass and business. Every member is equested to be present. A treat for all.

Lee Woodell, who hails from Grampian, created considerable excitement on the streets Wednesday afternoon by operating a motor car while in an intoxicated condition and also for his recklessness in managing the machine. He was arrested and given a hearing before Squire John A. Dale who held him for court under $1,000 bail bond.

Hugh Gallagher came in from his home at Erie, Pa., Wednesday to attend the funeral of his little granddaughter who was drowned in the river.

Alonzo Filippo, the man who bumped into those two Italian lads on upper Filbert street a few evenings ago and injured the one quite severely was arrested and brought to Curwensville yesterday from Philipsburg He languished in the borough fort until evening and was then taken before a justice of the peace and given a show down as to his performance in this peaceful bailiwick.

The Junior Woman's Club came up from Clearfield yesterday and picnicked pleasantly over in the Park.

D. A. Dotts, one of the firm of Bartelli & Dotts, Filbert street garagemen, hied himself over to Berwinsdale on Wednesday and took unto his bosom a wife, the fortunate young lady being a Miss Neveling, of that town. After the ceremony the young peopole started out for a wedding trip to Erie and the lakes. When the honeymoon is spent the happy young couple will make their future home in Curwensville where they will be welcomed heartily by our people.

Miss Lottie Bixler, Mrs. John Weiler and Mrs. Lew J. LaPorte took a day off from household cures and went down to Clearfield and spent the day in the Kolby home.

"Dad" Fleming comes back at Chief Clark as a gardner and lays claim to the fact that he enjoyed for his dinner on the 4th new potatoes reared in his own garden patch. Said he would have had new tomatoes too if they had only grown a little faster.

"Fritz" Graff owns an old hen who has her own ideas about family matters. She did a good deal of strutting about this spring but refused to be placed in solitude as a "setter." About a month or more ago "Fritz" missed her and concluded that some one had utilized her carcass to enrich a potpie. But, behold you, the other day she came strutting home having a brood of more than a dozen children at her heels, and proud she was.

A Dollar in Some Hands is Worth Two in Others—

You know young Mrs. Reynolds, don't you?—the one who has the lovely new bungalow on the hill—a new car, and who always looks like "a fashion plate".

And would you believe it—her husband's salary is the same as John Smith's—and Mrs. Smith tells you they "can't even afford to paint the old house".

It's just a difference in management—that's all. Mrs. Reynolds minds her P's and Q's—Prices and Qualities. For instance—she buys "finest table Quality"—

Nucoa

The Energy Spread for Bread

at half the price of the usual Spread—adds quality to her table and saves enough on price to add a goodly sum to her "luxury" budget.

Are you a Mrs. Reynolds?

If not, let an order to your grocer for a pound of delicate, ever fresh NUCOA today prove to you that making one dollar do the work of two is often a case of being a "good manager".

N. B. Never sacrifice Quality to Price. Nucoa is one exception that proves the rule. It is one Quality product that costs less because it is largely to Nature's own handiwork.

GAVE A FINE CONCERT

The concert given by the Clearfield Italian Citizens band at the Court House corner last evening was listened to by several hunderd people who enjoyed the good music.

This band is working hard to attain perfection and the members are to be congratulated upon the success they have made of it thus far. The membership is made up of all local residents, many of them being native born Clearfielders. They are not a bit stingy with their music and deserve commendation.

M. and Mrs. Wm. J. Kirkpatrick have returned to Washington, D. C. after visiting Mrs. Kirkpatrick's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Davis on Linden street.

Mrs. Nancy J. Parks, who is now in her 97th year, has had a large cancer removed from her face at the Clearfield Hospital. Mrs. Parks stays with her daughter Mrs. John Davis She is getting along nicely.

DRINK MORE MILK AND DO MORE WORK

This applies to the chap who does either brain work or brawn work. The make-up of the milk we deliver to your home is such that you get every necessary food ingredient for the sustenance of brain and body.

Then, too, there are lots of the vitamens about which you hear every day from your magazines and which are a large factor in your well being.

Make it a practice to drink at least a quart of milk a day and see how quickly you are feeling better as you do more work.

JULY 15 SERVICES MT. ZION

At 7:30 p. m. the services at Mt. Zion will be conducted, Rev. J. E. Gearhart to be accompanied by Rev. H. L. Jacobs, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, who will administer baptism, the Lord's Supper, following the Scripture exposition. Special offering for this sacramental occasion. eLt the people of the entire community turn out in numbers to make a creditable gathering.

Coloring Ivory.

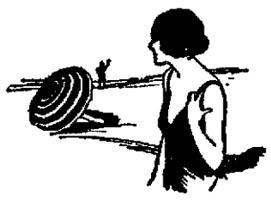
Brannt's Techno Chemical Receipt Book gives several recipes for coloring ivory yellow. It may be placed in a concentrated solution of potassium chromate, then in a hot solution of sugar of lead. Another method is to place it in a solution of yellow orpiment saturated with ammonia. Another treatment is to mordant the ivory in a solution of stannous sulphide or of alum, then place it in a hot decoction of weld.

Taken Time to Make Good.

Thomas Jefferson is quoted as defending the charge that Americans had not yet produced a single man of literary genius: "When we have existed so long as the Greeks did before they produced Homer the Romans Virgil the French a Racine and a Voltaire the English a Shakespeare and a Milton, we shall acquire from what unfriendly causes it has proceeded that the other countries of Europe and quarters of the earth shall not have inscribed any poet of ours on the roll of fame."

To Be Happy at Work.

If you are the sort of woman who cannot work well except under pleasant conditions, it is economy to buy the things that mean this to you. It may only be pretty curtains, light woodwork or a certain kind of wallpaper, but it means everything to certain types of women and results in much more being accomplished.



SUNBURN

If your skin is so tender that you expect sunburn, rub it well with Vicks before exposure.

After sunburn, apply Vicks gently—do not rub in. It soothes burn and often averts blisters.

For any outdoor vacation Vicks is "standard equipment." It eases attacks of hay fever asthma, catarrh and summe colds. Fine for sore feet, too

WATCH REPAIRING IS IMPORTANT WORK

There are so many things that enter into the repair of a watch, so many little things that might be done wrong, that I give my personal supervision to every piece of work that is done here.

Thus I am assured that when I tell you that your watch is repaired, I KNOW that it is repaired right and that it will keep the sort of time that you expect to to keep.

CHARITIES BOUND TO SUFFER WHEN PINCHOT ACTS

Final Action Will Be Taken Tonight on All Appropriations to the Hospitals of State.

OFFICIALS SNARL

Harrisburg, Pa., July 11.—Governor Pinchot has decided to meet the situation that confronts him in the insufficiency of revenues by making heavy cuts in the appropriations to charities.

Final action was contemplated today on all the hospital and institutional appropriation bills based on recommendations that have been made through various quarters.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 12—Departments under executives were thrown into confusion today by action of the two fiscal officials, the Auditor General and State Treasurer, in their rulings on the Administration Code.

The latest interpretation came from State Treasurer Charles Snyder, who has held up the pay of the Governor and a number of his departments because of technical inhibitions in the code.

The State Treasurer drew a sharp rebuke from Secretary of Highways Paul Wright for insisting on certification of all names on his payroll, including some 10,000 laborers in the field who have been paid from lump sum funds.

ALABAMA SATISFIED TO RETAIN SYSTEM OF LEASING PEONS

Montgomery, Ala., July 13.—Alabama's right to abolish the convict leasing system in this state, the one remaining state in the Union which practice it, failed today. The House by a vote of 54 to 22 passed an administration resolution declaring that no further action on leasing would be taken at this session.

JANESVILLE SEMI-PRO TEAM HERE TOMORROW

The Janesville baseball team, made up of a number of semi-pro player from Harrisburg and other points in the eastern part of the state, well known to local fans, will meet the local American Legion team at the Clearfield Park tomorrow afternoon Game called at 3:30 o'clock.

A lot of the fans have been asking for Saturday baseball and here is the opportunity to satisfy their craving.

The Janesville team is a very fast bunch and a good game should be the result of tomorrow's clash. Turn out and give the boys your support. They deserve it

WALL CAVED IN AT MOOSE JOB

The work of putting in the concrete foundation for the new Moose Temple on Market street was retarded when half the foundation wall under the Bailey residence, now owned by Franson and Schiefer slid over into the excavation for the Moose cellar.

When the cellar for the Moose building was dug out, the steam shovel employed took the dirt out right close up to the wall of the residence. The contractor was satisfied there was no danger of the ground and wall giving way and no attempt was made to "shore' or protect it from just what occurred today.

The cave-in happened at the noon hour when the men employed in building the foundation were eating their noonday lunch and this fact alone saved them from injury or possible death.

AT CENTER CHURCH TONIGHT

A bible study and prayer service will be held at the Center church this evening. Hyde City folks should go. It is the intention to hold such meetings every Friday evening.

M. and Mrs. Urban Leigey have returned from a motor trip to Pittsburgh and Cleveland, Ohio.

"DOLLAR WHEAT" PUTS FARMER IN BAD POSITION.

Chicago, July 12.—"Dollar wheat means ruin for thousands of farmers all over the United States."

In these words O. E. Bradfute, president of the American Farm Federation Bureau today epitomized the situation facing the great army of approximately three million wheat farmers in the grain belts following a drop of ten cents a bushel on wheat in the past two weeks.

"Continuance of wheat at the dollar a bushel mark means nothing short of bankruptcy for the thousands of farmers who are dependent on the price they get for their wheat for a livelihood," said Mr. Bradfute. "Unless there is an immediate upward turn of the market for which at present I can see no hope, there will be nothing for those farmers to do except throw up their hands and quit or put themselves heavily in debt in order to survive until better prices prevail.

"Dollar wheat in Chicago means that the farmer is unable to purchase the necessaries for himself and his family.

"The farmer's purchasing power is based on the price his wheat brings. When it is low, he has to deliver more wheat to secure a dollar's worth of merchandise. The more wheat he has to deliver for each dollar's worth, the quicker his supply is exhausted and the less he gets for his money."

Mr. Bradfute declared that the loss to the farmer in revenue from wheat based on a crop of 80,000,000 bushels has been approximately $80,000,000 during the past two weeks when wheat dropped from $1.10 a bushel to its present level of $1.

The immediate effect of this, he said, will be to benefit the consumer slightly for the time being by causing cheaper flour and its products but the ultimate effect will be to cause the consumer to pay higher prices when thousands of farmers are forced to throw up their hands and quit producing on account of inability to get enough for their product to sustain themselves.

"Dollar wheat means simply that the farmer will be unable to meet his obligations or do much of anything else. The ultimate effect of this on everybody is not hard to foresee.

"Every section of the United States will be affected either directly or indirectly. The only salvation is that wheat will shortly take an upward turn. Frankly, I am unable at present to see much hope for this. The farmer has over-produced."

40 Police, 4 Bandits In Fierce Battle In Alley At Chicago; Three Shot

Chicago, July 1.—Two policemen and one alleged gun man was wounded and the occupants of the fashionable Surf Hotel and Lakeshore Drive homes were thrown into a panic when forty policemen and four bandits fought a gun battle here today.

The fight was in a blind alley at the rear of the hotel. Hundreds of shots were exchanged. Three men were captured by police. One gave the name of Charles Curran and claimed to be the son of the State Representative.

The battle resulted when police pursued two groups of robbers, who staged a dozen midnight hold-ups of autoists on the Drive. The wounded Policeman, Lieutenant Christopher Hughes and chauffeur Thomas Hayes were shot when the gunmen turned at bay in the alley.

Children's Quarrel Cause Of Shooting; One Man May Die

Girardville, Pa., July 12.—Rocco Scherone this morning fired three shots at Constance Triano, aged 42, who is in the Ashland hospital suffering from bullet wounds in the arm thigh and abdomen. He may die.

Scherone fled after the shooting and has not been captured. Families of both men reside in the same house and a children's quarrel precipitated the shooting.

Mrs. W. C. Pollard, of Decatur, Ill and son Wilson Briggs are here visiting Mrs. Pollard's mother, Mrs. A. W. Cowder, of 206 Nichols street.

REPORT WESTPHALIA TAKEN BY FRENCH DESPITE BRITAIN

Berlin, July 13.—News was received here today that French troops had advanced to Westphalia and occupied Darmen.

This city, an important industrial center of nearly 200,000 inhabitants is one of the most important in the Rhineland and its seizure is a blow to Germany. It had been hoped that France would desist from further advances in view of the British statement.

French troops were also reported to be marching toward Elberfeld. It was announced that Elberfeld had been occupied.

FOUR HOMES ARE DYNAMITED OVER MINE DISTURBANCE

Pittsburgh, Pa., July 13.—Front porches were blown to atoms, rooms and furniture wrecked and persons thrown from their beds when four homes were dynamited here within a period of fifteen minutes early today. None were injured.

One home was that of Alex Campbell, leader of the insurgents of District No. 1 of the United Mine Workers of America, and Chairman of the Grievance Committee of the Pennsylvania Coal Company at Millside Coal & Iron Company.

It is believed that Campbell, at a meeting last night presented a proposition calling off the strike at the No. 8 and No. 9 collieries, which has been in progress a week. A number of men, it is thought, did not like the proposition and perpetrated the dynamiting.

FOUNDER OF DUBOIS COURIER PAYS VISIT TO OLD HOME CITY

Mr. and Mrs. Bion H. Butler, of Southern Pines, N. C., both former residents of DuBois, are making an automobile trip through this section of the country visiting relatives and greeting old time friends. Their youngest son Cyril is along. Mr. and Mrs. Butler went to the south some twenty-five years ago where Mr. Butler is an extensive landowner and owner and grower of small fruit in the famous white sand belt, noted for its peaches and strawberries. They are enthusiastic boosters of the advantages of the Tar Heel state. Mr. Butler was the founder, editor and publisher of the DuBois Courier, officiating at the printing of the first edition on an old fashioned hand press. That was way back in 1870 and was the first paper printed in DuBois. After leaving DuBois Mr. Butler went to Brockwayville and founded the Record, which he made into one of the best country weeklies in the state. Later he gained renown as a special writer for the Pittsburgh Times. The Butlers expect to resume their tour today.

The thing that impressed the tourists most was the amount of paved roads to be found in this section of the country now, in contrast to the mud and dust trails that were the absolute rule twenty years ago.

MARRIED AT CUMBERLAND

Daniel Cyphers of Curwensville, and Miss Martha Killinger of Shawville, went to Cumberland on the seventh and were united in marriage by Rev. Enders of Grace Lutheran church. The groom is a son of Wm. Cyphers of Curwensville and the bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Killinger of Shawville. May they live long, happy and useful lives.

Firpo Wins: Knocks Out Willard

Firpo is the new star of Pistiana Willard fades out of the picture. The former, bearing the full name of Luis Angel Firpo, a giant ex-drug clerk of Argentine, advertised as the "bull of the Pampas," last night won a right to contend with Jack Dempsey for the heavyweight championship of the world by knocking out Jesse Willard in the eighth round. A terrific right to the jaw rocked the former champ to his knees in his own corner. On one knee Willard took the count of ten. At the count of eight his seconds shouted savagely at him to get up but Jesse weakly replied, "No, no."

Jesse was a game fighter. Although the giant South American out-boxed the ex-cowboy from the beginning, Willard never faltered, taking punishment with a smile and coming out of bad situations boldly. Firpo won five rounds; Jesse only one. In the fourth round it looked as though Willard was gone. A succession of hard hammer blows had him groggy.

One hundred thousand saw the fight in the giant pine bowl near Jersey City. The three additional fights were short but the crowd was pleased. In the first preliminary Herman completely bewildered Kramer by a windfall of rights and lefts. Kramer stood up under a terrible battering for five rounds then the worm turned. Kramer rallied in the fifth and sent Herman down for count of six and later sent him to the hemlock again. The sixth round was tame, both men tired out. It was a real fight.

The second preliminary lasted four rounds. Both Nashert and West were fighting poorly and fouling. Referee stopped the bout at end of fourth West losing.

In the semi-final Johnson knocked out McAuliffe in 1 minute and 4 seconds of the first round of their heavyweight bout.

One of McAuliffe's handlers sprinkled water on his back, as he crouched near his corner, and when the Jeanette pugilist, acting as referee, signified Johnson as winner, fight fans thought he had disqualified the Detroit boxer It was announced from the ring, however, that McAuliffe had been counted out. Johnson weighed 198 and McAuliffe 196.

In a few seconds he had McAuliffe flat on his back, and the thud of his head could be heard almost on the rim of the giant theatre. In a few minutes more the flying fighter from Des Moines had McAufflie almost through the ropes with a right to the jaw. McAuliffe dropped to his knee, clinging to the ropes when he was counted out. At this moment a shower of water fell on McAuliffe from his corner and a chorus of cries rose from Johnson's handlers, while the crowd stood aghast at this dramatic instance.

Following is the dope on the big fight, round by round. Willard weighed in at 242 and Firpo at 214

Round One.

Firpo led with a left and missed. They clinched. Stepping back, Willard missed a left jab and a right uppercut and took a right counter to the body. Firpo charged into Willard, landing two, not important. Firpo again rushed and jabbed Willard in the side and the breast with glancing blows. Willard was fighting entirely on the defensive and when he hit fell short in his punches. Willard dodged two rights. Firpo rushed Willard to the ropes and hit him with a right to the face and right to the body. Firpo opened Willard's eye with a left then Willard countered short to the body. Willard missed a left jab as round one ended.

Round Two.

They both came slowly out of their corners. Willard missed a left jab. Willard tore into Firpo but the South American stepped back and away Firpo backed Willard to the ropes and missed a hard one to the jaw. He followed with a right to the body and a right skidded off Willard's cheek bone. Rushing Willard, Firpo got over two right hooks to the head and Willard clinched. Willard was short with a left jab and Firpo ducked another left at his head. Willard hooked a right to Firpo's face and Firpo countered with two hard rights to the body. Firpo was directing his attack entirely at Willard's body where little rolls of fat hung over his trunks. Firpo hooked two rights to the head and Willard missed a wild right uppercut. Firpo was clinched with Willard when the round ended.

Round Three.

Firpo rushed from his corner and swung a right to Willard's shoulder. Willard charged back and rushed Firpo to the ropes. Willard apparently had been told from his corner to fight but he was standing too far away and his punches were falling short. He was, however, trying to follow out instructions. Firpo put over a right hook to the head and Willard tried a right uppercut at close quarters but missed. Willard hooked a right to jaw and Firpo clinched. Firpo stepped back from one of Willard's rushes and ran into the referee, nearly knocking him down. Willard getting more confident and was leading into Firpo. Both missed swings. Considerable sparring. Willard again landed but not effectively. Both were squared off ready for attack as the round ended.

Round Four.

Both fighters were breathing a little heavily when they came out. Willard missed a left jab. Firpo landed on the elbow. Firpo took a right and they clinched. Firpo rushed Willard to the ropes with a savage rushing attack. Clinched. Firpo missed a right and Willard countered with a hard right uppercut. Firpo apparently had forgotten all his lessons in orthodox fighting and was leading continually with his right hand. Willard was taking every advantage and was wearing a savage scowl. Firpo landed a hard right to the jaw that rocked Jesse to his heels. He followed it with five other short rights to Willard's head but when the crowd raised Willard smiled. Again Firpo attacked him with a barrage of rights and Jesse got groggy. He was game, however, and continued to smile. He was a tired Jesse when the round ended.

Round Five.

Willard came cautiously out of his corner and missed a left. Firpo missed also with a left and they clinched. Willard's corner was shouting "Right hand, Jeff, right hand." As if to respond he smashed Firpo on the face with a hard right. He fought Firpo to the ropes but Louis came back and rushed Jesse to the other side of the ring. Firpo seemed a litte tired and he was rocked to his heels with a hard right under his eye. Firpo shook his head groggily and fell into a clinch. The blow seemed to have hurt him badly. Willard carved wildly and missed several rights and lefts. Firpo came to and landed a right hand to the head as Willard came in. The crowd was shouting like a football crowd, "Come on Jess, come on Jess," as the gong sounded. Firpo went back to his corner plainly tired.

Sixth Round.

With the crowd still yelling for Willard, Firpo came out and sparred into a clinch. He had apparently been warned by his seconds to be more cautious. Firpo missed a left and landed a right to Willard's shoulder. Both fighters were over-cautious and they milled and sparred around the ring, trying to get a chance. Firpo fired several rapid punches in a clinch but Willard blocked him with a ponderous left arm. Firpo hit Willard with a right on the body which hurt. Willard clinched but again led with a right hand but missed. The fight was flowing up. Both seemed to be tiring. Willard missed a right to the body and Firpo missed a right counter to the jaw. Firpo was leading again with his right hand and again his seconds shouted caution to him. A slow round.

Seventh Round.

Firpo came out of his corner and socked Jesse on the jaw with a right. Willard came back with a right to the body and Firpo stepped away. Firpo dashed into a left jab and Willard pounded him on the neck with a right rabbit punch. Willard caught him with a right to the body as he came in and it hurt Firpo. Another right to the body brought Firpo into a clinch. Willard hooked Firpo to the ropes and hit him with a hard right that snapped Firpo's head back on his shoulders. Firpo had assumed the defensive and Willard jabbed him in the face time after time. Willard seemed to be getting better right along but he missed most of his punches. Willard missed a left swing but Firpo countered with a terrific right that landed on Jess' cheek. Firpo again went in with a savage attack that had Willard covering up for shelter when the gong sounded.

Eighth Round.

Willard came slowly from his corner. Firpo walked clear across the ring to miss a left jab. Both sparring around the ring. Firpo hit Willard on the body and they clinched. Firpo walked into another clinch for no apparent reason and Willard missed a right uppercut. Firpo knocked Willard to the floor for a count of ten, the bell rang. Firpo wins—KNOCKOUT. It was a terrific right to the jaw that brought the giant to his knees and made him powerless to arise.

MONDAY AND TUESDAY SET AS DATES FOR RENEWAL OF PLEDGES TO SUPPORT OF CLEARFIELD COMMUNITY SERVICE

Playgrounds Ought to Be Continued and There Is Much Other Work to Be Done In Clearfield.

BIG ATTENDANCE NOTED

With a splendid year's record of achievement in equipment and management of the city's playgrounds, founding and development of the Girl Scouts, organization of five athletic leagues, and innumerable other community activities in co-operation with schools, churches and neighborhoods, Clearfield Community Service on July 16th and 17th will ask its thousand subscribers for renewed subscriptions in order that this work may continue to be one of the greatest assets of the city, according to Mr. George I. Thurston, who has just been elected to presidency of this community agency for 1923-24 and who will be chairman of the subscription renewal campaign.

This evening there will be a luncheon meeting at 6 o'clock in the Hotel Jordan to lay final plans for the campaign. It will be very brief as it is hoped that but the two mornings, Monday and Tuesday from 9 to 12, will be required to accomplish a 100 per cent renewal. Workers will meet each morning and report progress at "dutch treat" luncheons each noon.

An attendance of over 28,000 people has been the record hung up service by the many different activities of this agency. That means either that everyone in the city was served at least three times, or that all those who did take part were served many, many times.

"Boiling the story down to its essence, it means that all of the activities of Community Service have spelled prevention; prevention of accident sickness, juvenile delinquency, crime and all their attendant evils which make necessary those expensive community tragedies, the hospitals, insane asylums, jails and prisons," said Mr. Thurston this morning.

"Every dollar you spend for Community Service now will save many dollars which you would have to spend that way later," he cont'

"Community Service has meant conservation and growth of our greatest community asset—citizenship. In view of the wonderful record which Community Service has made during the last year, the finance committee feels sure of the undivided support and backing of Clearfield in the coming campaign and in the working out of the program for the new year—which it is hoped to make even more valuable and of a still greater magnitude."

Big Community Party At Reedsville Tonight To Be A Popular Event

Reedsville is having its first outdoor community party this evening on the playground. These parties are by now such an established thing in the life of the neighborhood that they do not need much advertisement Tonight will be a sort of official opening of the playground which has been progressing in good form for three weeks. It is hoped that the Italian Band which contributed so much to several similar occasions last summer will be there and the usual program will be carried out that has proved so successful before.

"BURG" HUMILIATES LOCAL BALL TEAM BY THIRD TIME DEFEAT

Something has got to be done, and that pretty darn soon, if Clearfield baseball fans are to retain or regain their peace of mind. Several weeks ago that Philipsburg bunch came over to the best town in the entire W. Branch valley and getting our baseball warriors over onto the Park diamond proceeded to beat them handily by a 2 to 1 score. Then to add further insult to injury the Centre county ball tossers slipped back again and before an audience of 18,000 on the afternoon of the Fourth handed us another lacing by the same 4 to 2 score.

Not satisfied with twice trimming us on our own "dunghill," barnyardically speaking, Philipsburg inveigled our would-be champs over to their home lot yesterday afternoon and what they did to us was plenty, being equalled only by the walloping "Fes" Firpo handed our ancient friend Jess Willard, the Pottawattomie pugilistic pigmy. It is too much.

But this is how it was. Our pets were sent to bat first and started out like a real ball team. McCloskey, first up, got his base on balls. Townsend singled and after Robinson and Heb were out, Shaulis hit a double and three runs were sent across. Two more were added in the second Rowles' single and a triple by Townsend. Philipsburg then inserted a stopper in our run chute and while Shaulis laced out a triple in the third that was as near as we eve. came to scoring after the second.

Philipsburg garnered two runs in the second on three singles in a row. Got two more in fourth on an error, base on balls and Waite's double

IMPROVED LOTS ARE A BOON TO MAN WHO WANTS TO OWN HOME

Neat Little City In Itself Is Verdict of All Who See Work Going Forward on Fourth Street.

LOTS GO RAPIDLY

A visit to the Clearfield Home Builders' site, the most substantial addition ever made to rapidly growing Clearfield, will well repay any person for the effort expended. The site, bounded by Leavy avenue on the north, Elm Avenue on the south, South Foart street on the east and South Third street on the west contains forty-one fine lots which are being sold under a highly satisfactory plan by the holding corporation, an organization of local business men, who, without hope or thought of gain organized this association for the purpose of assisting Clearfield people to get their own homes.

In order to make this a desirable place in which to live it was decided to improve the plot by building streets, curbs, gutters and sidewalks and having an splendid lighting system installed. All these modern improvements and necessities are being made or placed and the Home Builders site looks like a neat little city block of its own. The streets are graded and improved, concrete sidewalks built throughout while the concrete curbs and gutters are being built as help for the sanitary sewers are being advanced for.

Pennsylvania Avenue divides the plot. This avenue runs diagonally from outh Third to South Fourth street and is lined with Norway Maple shade trees while standard boulevard lighting posts are being placed and when these improvements are all made Pennsylvania avenue, though much shorter, will be handsomer than any other street in town. The sanitary sewers will be placed in the alleys and after construction ends at the new addition the home owner will never have his street or front yard dug up for sewer and other repairs.

The Home Builders Company is developing this plot for Clearfield and not as a money making proposition, the articles of incorporation providing that no stockholder may get more of a return than legal interest on his money, and in addition to providing the homesite at a very reasonable figure, when it is taken into consideration that every necessary improvement is made and paid for in the price of the lot, The Home Builders Company also assists the lot purchaser in getting the wherewithal with which to build his home.

This site or addition will, in a short time prove to be one of the most desirable residence locations in or about the town and a number of citizens have already taken advantage of the opportunity by purchasing lots and are having modern homes erected.

But visit the Home Builders Company site and see for yourself what a transformation has been worked and what a really desirable place it is.

HORSESHOE NEWS

The West Side versus East End game came off Tuesday night in the 11th street court as scheduled. It was a bad night and only two games were pitched with the following score

ODDS AND ENDS AND THINGS

By J. B. C.

People who remember the famous "Ormsby quads," a decided sensation in 1901 and 1902, will be interested to learn that they have grown to manhood and womanhood—so far as known the only set of quadruplets in history to reach maturity. The equally famous mother also survives and resides in a tiny bungalow on a two-acre farm on the outskirts of Chicago. Care of a cow, some chickens and several goats occupies the time she formerly devoted to the seven children who survived of the 14 born to her in seven years.

When she was 26 years old she was married to John Ormsby in 1894. A year later a boy was born. Then came twins. Following them a baby daughter and the next year the Ormsbys were blessed with another pair of twins.

Father Ormsby, a plumber by trade and a believer in perpetual motion by avocation, began to display signs of worry. Wrinkles of care appeared when the second set of twins arrived and these deepened to furrows when triplets were announced in 1899. The latest babies were named George Dewey, Carter Harrison and Helen Gould. Father Ormsby began to lose weight. He grew morose and could not hold a job, but applied himself more assiduously than ever to the gears and pinions of his perpetual motion machine.

The arrival of a baby boy in 1900 failed to cheer him. A year later, in a serious conference with his wife, he told her things could not go on at this rate. Then he walked out of the house and never reappeared. Four months later the famous "quads" were born.

From poverty and distress, the deserted mother was at once raised to a pinnacle of wealth and comfort beyond her dream. The public responded nobly. Money poured in from every direction. Museum magnates frantically bid for the services of herself and the "quads." There were trained nurses, limosines and everything that went with wealth.

Four years later the sensation died out, the money was gone, the mansion gave way to four rooms, which later gave way to a one-room hovel near the railroad tracks as the babies were taken to the juvenile home. While wealth was pouring in on Mrs Ormsby her runaway husband wrote asking her to take him back but she spurned his plea. He died in Seattle some time ago.

One hundred and seventy-eight German submarines were "lost in action" during the war, according to an official report just received by the Navy Department. The loss in personnel is given at 5,964, of whom 515 were officers. The figures are believed by officials here to be the first authentic information on this subject to be obtained. Four years were consumed, the author of the report asserts, in checking official records and interviewing members of the German admiralty who had charge of the under-sea craft.

Depth charges accounted for 3 submarines, fixed mines of 36, fights with enemy submarines 20; engine and other trouble 14; torpedo boats, destroyers and subschasers 13; accidental ramming eight, armed fishing craft six; airplane (bombing) six and submarine nets six. Twenty-one submarines were demolished or otherwise disposed of to prevent their capture by the enemy. There were sunk by regular patrol vessels of the enemy three by armed vessels of the enemy three by armed auxiliaries, two by cruisers and two by artillery fire from the shore. One was sunk by a liner at the entrance to the British main base of Scapa Flow, the famous U-29 under Capt. Weddigen.

Chile has fewer fires than any other South American county. The reason for this state of affairs is due, largely to a unique law that country has on her statute books, and enforces to the letter.

This is the law regarding fires. For in Chile, the danger from a fire does not end with getting burned yourself or having all of your household goods and treasures destroyed.

As in France, a man is guilty of a crime until he is proved innocent, so in Chile a man is considered guilty of having set his house on fire until he proves that he had nothing whatever to do with it.

For when a fire occurs, the owner or the occupant of the burned building is promptly arrested and brought before a court of law. There, legally speaking, "the burden of proof is on him,' until he convinces the court that he is guiltless.

Needless to say, there are very few "fire sales" in Chile and such a thing as a joke about a fire is never heard.

Miss Josephine Swan, a lineal descendant of the first white child born in America, died recently in Erie. She was a granddaughter of the American Revolution and was the last of her family, renowned for their hospitality to travelers along the newly beaten paths of the lake shore in the early years of the last century. The homestead was erected 109 years ago, shortly after Perry's victory on Lake Erie assured the people from eastern Pennsylvania that the lake country would be safe from hostile invasion and Indian depredations.

Had His Ambitions.

Discussing music the other day my little nephew was asked if he wouldn't like to take violin lessons. He answered, "No, I should say not I want to belong to a real orchestra, one that walks down the street."—Exchange.

Time Enough.

In Nevada a woman's club with charitable leanings staged a vaudeville show at the "University of Time," as the state penal institution is facetiously called. One of the women had to return to town early, and not wishing to disturb the other entertainers she appealed to the officer in whose charge they had been placed. The latter courteously offered to send her home in his car with a "trusty" as chauffeur. After starting on her homeward journey with the convict she duly regretted her rashness and tried to extricate herself. "Are you sure you have enough to take me all the way to the city?" she nervously began. "Well, madam" the convict answered. "I have five gallons of gas and fourteen years."

The Progress is anxious to be to this community as a medium of information concerning matters which are for the public good. In this classification we include notices of regular Sabbath church services, notes concerning Community Service activities, Y. M. C. A. activities, community campaigns of various kinds and communications on topics of interest to the whole community.

While offering this service and gladly performingit we must request those who profit by it that unless it is given us in accordance with our rules we cannot accept it. All such material offered can just as well be handed in the day before publication, thus enabling us to put it into type during the hours when we are not rushed.

Primarily a newspaper is a business proposition; in our particular case having sixteen regular employees who look for and deserve a pay envelope every Saturday evening, and with a material and overhead cost running into many thousands of dollars yearly.

The time devoted to performing this free service to the community could be and is in the case of practically every other printing establishment in the city, turned to the production of job printing at a profit.

When such material is not handed to us so that we can work it in between times we are handicapped.

We have no other alternative therefore, but to lay aside any such communication received at a late hour on the morning of publication but can accept them gladly if not later than nine o'clock provided this is the exception rather than the rule.

Help us out in this respect so that we may continue to serve you.

Alabama, the home of Senator Oscar Underwood, erstwhile candidate for president of the United States, today decided through the Legislature that it could not get along to do business without the privilege of buying and selling human labor in bulk even though the consent of such labor was not had.

That state, over which Senator Underwood has always held sway as a political boss, was recently the scene of the brutal whipping of a western boy by a prison boss which resulted in the death of the boy. The whipper is now under sentence of twenty years. May the lash fall heavily on his cowardly hide.

Today that state by legislative action upholds the principle of convict labor and despite the fact that Senator Underwood is to be put forward as "a great and typical American" as a presidential candidate, he raises not a finger against this inhuman practice.

Will Democracy stand for such a candidate?

Every man who starts out to criticize ought to stop short and consider his right to criticize before he utters a word. Ordinarily Clearfield is free from knockers and critics. Fortunately nearly everybody tends to his or her own business. Let us keep it so. Just for the purpose of helping keep it so, let us review a few of the instances coming to our notice.

First, a fellow harrangued long and loudly about Philipsburg defeating our ball team three times in succession. He knew just why it was and is ready to place the blame. He tells just what he would do about it. That ball team did not cost him a cent. He might have attended the game and paid an admission but that admission price entitled him to see the game not a victory. He had no license to knock.

Second, a fellow lampooned the "Y." He probably has not had a membership since he won one by working as a kid but the "Y" stands out as a shining light and he loves to throw stones at a shining mark. If he did subscribe to the "Y" it was his own act. There was no compulsion about it. If he has a real kick let him tell it to the Board of Directors, The public will thereby be relieved of a nuisance.

Third, a fellow jumped on the idea of Community Service. Said he got along all right when he was a kid without any such high falutin' things. Yes, we grant he did, but look at him now. Who wants to be like him? He has a mighty good opinion of himself, one that is not shared by his fellows. Nine chances out of ten he "had business out of town" during the solicitation. Boy, but there is a lot of business done out of town these days. No compulsion about Community Service either. Those who want to do something for others, if they are financially able will subscribe. Others may want to do the same thing but will be unable to do so. Those who do not want to help will be excused, we believe. No criticism can be attached for their failure to help. That is their own business but it is also their business to let those who do desire to spend their money alone.

There are many other fellows. They are even knocking the Home Builders Company, a non-profit concern wherein many are loaning their money and giving of their time to lighten somebody else's burden.

This form of unjustifiable criticism has not reached a critical stage, and will not, for Clearfield's citizenry is not built that way. No harm though in showing a few fellows a picture of themselves.

Let us pra-ize.

Progress Editorial For Women

WOMEN'S EDITORIAL ? , PLANTING IDEAS THAT GROW

By Florence Davies

Did you ever watch a pile driver driving a great stake into the ground?

Down comes the great hammer and pounds the stake in a few inches; down again it falls, over and over again and the huge log sinks a little lower at each blow.

With all the powerfull modern machinery that we have did you ever wonder why they did't devise some machine which would hit that stake hard enough to send it in with a single blow?

Doubtless it could be done. But what do you suppose would happen to the stake and the earth around it? A blow hard enough to drive a 12 inch log into the earth to the required depth, would shatter the log and make a great shell hole where it was supposed to be. The whole thing would end in a glorious noise, a glorious smash which would spell ruin.

That isn't the way we drive big stakes into the ground. Neither is is that the way we drive ideas into children's heads, but some parents seem to think that it is. They deliver a rule or a command with a smashing blow which is ment to settle the matter for all time. But all they succeed in doing is to come down like a pile driver which was stout enough to crash the idea and the mental soil around it.

Delivered with this kind of a blow an idea enteres a childes head and arouses only antagonism.

Banging away at things, whether they are wooden piles or ideas is dangerous business.

That's what a doctor means when he says that he uses suggestion to cure his patients. Suggestion is nothing more than planting ideas in to people's heads and then driving them down deep by a series of gentle little taps.

People who succeed in business use that method without knowing what they do.

Suppose you crash into the manager's office and tell him with all the force you have, what ought to be done Right away he wonders who is running the business and he sets up a kind of resistance.

Something about the way you planted that idea made it go smash instead of falling gently into place and taking root.

But suppose again that you drop into the office some day and plant your little thought seed with a kindly question or a modestly-made suggestion. You think it's lost but before you know it you mayfind that the boss is doing things your way and merrily thinks it is his own way.

Try this kind of idea pile driving with your children.

Plant the seed of suggestion and keep tapping away at it with another suggestion the next day and the next and the next. Before you know it that idea will have taken root and will be growing beautifully, while trying to smash it in all at once may only end in failure.

Propaganda or Facts

The world today is flooded with propaganda. There is a scarcity of facts.

Pick up a magazine or newspaper and glance through it.

Sense of Humor.

A sense of humor is a very fine thing. It lifts one over life's rough places as it were, with a leap and a bound, and lands one in safety on the farther bank of the swollen and threatening stream. You keep young if you possess it; the twinkle in your eye is a sign that old age is far from you yet, whatever your years may be. All the same, a sense of humor is a gift which must be displayed with discretion. The trouble is that, with most of us, it stops working when we need it most—that is when things go wrong with our own affairs. The man who can smile when this happens is a hero.—Philadelphia Re

Roman Remains in Britain.

Excavating for the foundation of a new factory to be erected at Keynsham, near Bristol England workmen recently unearthed Roman remains. The Daily Chronicle of London reports the discovery of coffins containing skeletons, a Roman needle about six inches long, a spoon and a brooch. The brooch is believed to have put the finishing touch upon the toga of a Roman gallant.

Scientific Achievement.

Apparatus with which it is possible to measure the minute length of time necessary to arouse the sense of vision in the human eye has been developed by English scientists.

Attractive Invitation.

Junior gave a party to his little friends, and insisted on writing his own invitations. He was a precocious youngster, especially in his diction; after the formal invitation had been written he added: "There will be indoor and outdoor amusements, 'eats' and other activities."

Ancient Manuscripts.

The oldest manuscript written on cotton paper in England is in the British museum and bears the date of 1049. The most ancient manuscript on the same material in the Library of Paris is dated 1050. In 1085 A. D. the Christian successors of the Spanish Saracens made paper of rags instead of raw cotton, which is recognized by its yellowness and brittleness.

In Washington Tomb.

The tomb contains, besides George Washington and his wife, Maj. Lawrence Lewis, Mary Lee Washington Herbert (a child of Rev. W. P. C. Johnson), Mrs. Jane Washington, Judge Bushrod Washington, Ann Washington (his wife) and John Augustine Washington.

Brazil Ships Bulk of Coffee.

Three-fourths of the world's coffee is grown in Brazil. Europe and North America use nearly four-fifths of all the coffee produced. The world consumption now amounts to something like 3,000,000,000 pounds a year. Holland is the greatest coffee-drinking nation on the globe. It uses more than fifteen pounds per capita annually, while the people of the United States use about thirteen pounds.

Good Definition.

Cheats easily believe others as bad as themselves; there is no deceiving them, nor do they long deceive.—La Bruyere.

Many Japanese in Hawaii.

Japanese are more than 42 per cent of the population of the Hawaiian islands.

Curwensville's Own Column

Mrs. A. C. Stiver died very suddenly late yesterday afternoon of acute indigestion. She was in perfect health up until within an hour before overtaken by death. Obituary later.

The members of the W. C. T. U will hold a meeting on Friday evening, July 13th. There will be study lass and business. Every member is equested to be present. A treat for all.

Lee Woodell, who hails from Grampian, created considerable excitement on the streets Wednesday afternoon by operating a motor car while in an intoxicated condition and also for his recklessness in managing the machine. He was arrested and given a hearing before Squire John A. Dale who held him for court under $1,000 bail bond.

Hugh Gallagher came in from his home at Erie, Pa., Wednesday to attend the funeral of his little granddaughter who was drowned in the river.

Alonzo Filippo, the man who bumped into those two Italian lads on upper Filbert street a few evenings ago and injured the one quite severely was arrested and brought to Curwensville yesterday from Philipsburg He languished in the borough fort until evening and was then taken before a justice of the peace and given a show down as to his performance in this peaceful bailiwick.

The Junior Woman's Club came up from Clearfield yesterday and picnicked pleasantly over in the Park.

D. A. Dotts, one of the firm of Bartelli & Dotts, Filbert street garagemen, hied himself over to Berwinsdale on Wednesday and took unto his bosom a wife, the fortunate young lady being a Miss Neveling, of that town. After the ceremony the young peopole started out for a wedding trip to Erie and the lakes. When the honeymoon is spent the happy young couple will make their future home in Curwensville where they will be welcomed heartily by our people.

Miss Lottie Bixler, Mrs. John Weiler and Mrs. Lew J. LaPorte took a day off from household cures and went down to Clearfield and spent the day in the Kolby home.

"Dad" Fleming comes back at Chief Clark as a gardner and lays claim to the fact that he enjoyed for his dinner on the 4th new potatoes reared in his own garden patch. Said he would have had new tomatoes too if they had only grown a little faster.

"Fritz" Graff owns an old hen who has her own ideas about family matters. She did a good deal of strutting about this spring but refused to be placed in solitude as a "setter." About a month or more ago "Fritz" missed her and concluded that some one had utilized her carcass to enrich a potpie. But, behold you, the other day she came strutting home having a brood of more than a dozen children at her heels, and proud she was.

A Dollar in Some Hands is Worth Two in Others—

You know young Mrs. Reynolds, don't you?—the one who has the lovely new bungalow on the hill—a new car, and who always looks like "a fashion plate".

And would you believe it—her husband's salary is the same as John Smith's—and Mrs. Smith tells you they "can't even afford to paint the old house".

It's just a difference in management—that's all. Mrs. Reynolds minds her P's and Q's—Prices and Qualities. For instance—she buys "finest table Quality"—

Nucoa

The Energy Spread for Bread

at half the price of the usual Spread—adds quality to her table and saves enough on price to add a goodly sum to her "luxuries" budget.

Are you a Mrs. Reynolds?

If not, let an order to your grocer for a pound of delicate, ever fresh NUCOA today prove to you that making one dollar do the work of two is often a case of being a "good manager".

N. B. Never sacrifice Quality to Price. Nucoa is one exception that proves the rule. It is one Quality product that costs less because it is largely to Nature's own handiwork.

THE BEST FOODS, INC.

GAVE A FINE CONCERT

The concert given by the Clearfield Italian Citizens band at the Court House corner last evening was listened to by several hunderd people who enjoyed the good music.

This band is working hard to attain perfection and the members are to be congratulated upon the success they have made of it thus far. The membership is made up of all local residents, many of them being native born Clearfielders. They are not a bit stingy with their music and deserve commendation.

M. and Mrs. Wm. J. Kirkpatrick have returned to Washington, D. C. after visiting Mrs. Kirkpatrick's parents Mr. and Mrs. John Davis on Linden street.

Mrs. Nancy J. Parks, who is now in her 97th year, has had a large cancer removed from her face at the Clearfield Hospital. Mrs. Parks stays with her daughter Mrs. John Davis She is getting along nicely.

DRINK MORE MILK AND DO MORE WORK

This applies to the chap who does either brain work or brawn work. The make-up of the milk we deliver to your home is such that you get every necessary food ingredient for the sustenance of brain and body.

Then, too, there are lots of the vitamens about which you hear every day from your magazines and which are a large factor in your well being.

Make it a practice to drink at least a quart of milk a day and see how quickly you are feeling better as you do more work.

JULY 15 SERVICES MT. ZION

At 7:30 p. m. the services at Mt. Zion will be conducted, Rev. J. E. Gearhart to be accompanied by Rev. H. L. Jacobs, pastor of Trinity Methodist church, who will administer baptism, the Lord's Supper, following the Scripture exposition. Special offering for this sacramental occasion. eLt the people of the entire community turn out in numbers to make a creditable gathering.

Coloring Ivory.

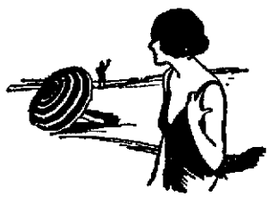
Brannt's Techno Chemical Receipt Book gives several recipes for coloring ivory yellow. It may be placed in a concentrated solution of potassium chromate, then in a hot solution of sugar of lead. Another method is to place it in a solution of yellow orpiment saturated with ammonia. Another treatment is to mordant the ivory in a solution of stannous sulphide or of alum, then place it in a hot decoction of weld.

Taken Time to Make Good.

Thomas Jefferson is quoted as defending the charge that American had not yet produced a single man of literary genius: "When we have existed so long as the Greeks did before they produced Homer the Romans Virgil the French a Racine and a Voltaire the English a Shakespeare and a Milton, we shall inquire from what unfriendly causes it has proceeded that the other countries of Europe and quarters of the earth shall not have inscribed any poet of ours on the roll of fame."

To Be Happy at Work.

If you are the sort of woman who cannot work well except under pleasant conditions, it is economy to buy the things that mean this to you. It may only be pretty curtains, light woodwork or a certain kind of wallpaper, but it means everything to certain types of women and results in much more being accomplished.



SUNBURN

If your skin is so tender that you expect sunburn, rub it well with Vicks before exposure.

After sunburn, apply Vicks gently—do not rub in. It soothes burn and often averts blisters.

For any outdoor vacation Vicks is "standard equipment." It eases attacks of hay fever asthma, catarrh and summe colds. Fine for sore feet, too

WATCH REPAIRING IS IMPORTANT WORK

There are so many things that enter into the repair of a watch, so many little things that might be done wrong, that I give my personal supervision to every piece of work that is done here.

Thus I am assured that when I tell you that your watch is repaired, I KNOW that it is repaired right and that it will keep the sort of time that you expect to to keep.
